Proposal Request

Gentlemen:

Under the terms of the several task orders of the subject contract, your office has developed and produced the High Speed Communications Systems

This is to advise that it has been administratively determined that certain additional features may be required in order to provide the highly versatile equipment necessary to fulfill our requirements.

Accordingly, we are soliciting proposals from your office for further modifications to the systems as follows:

1. Adding a redundant 98 wpm transmission and reception mode of operation to the equipment.
2. Redesign of the systems to provide for operation within a bandwidth of six (6) kilocycles or less.

Very truly yours,
